Kinsmen pleased with Rodeo

St. Albert Kinsmen are still recuperating from the activities of last weekend. The club, which has a membership of less than 30, did a Herculean job organizing Rodeo 110.

Paid admission to the grounds were 11,000, an increase over last year's attendance figures. In addition several thousand pre-schoolers were admitted to the grounds free of charge.

The arena was a hub of activity as close to 1,600 persons attended the Beer and Band festivals held there Friday and Saturday evenings. The arena was also open for family entertainment Saturday afternoon. In all, some 643 cases of beer were sold at the Arena.

A spokesman for the Kinsmen said the club realized "very little, if any" profit for their labours. "We don't look upon the rodeo as a money making event any longer," he said. "It falls in the category of a community project."

He added that feedback he has received indicates local people do enjoy this annual event and the public in general would loath to see the rodeo discontinued.

"We sure didn't make a lot of money, but I guess people had a good time, and that is important," he said.

Three new businesses to open soon in St. Albert

Construction has begun on three new businesses in St. Albert. Opening their doors soon to the public will be a Dairy Queen, a sporting goods store and new premises of St. Albert Upholstery.

The Dairy Queen outlet, on St. Anne street is due to open for business around August 15. A spokesman for the company said the restaurant will feature inside seating for family dining and the kitchen will be fully equipped with the most modern facilities.

John Scott of St. Albert Upholstery said construction started this week on his new building on Perron street. The premises will feature a spacious shop and front offices which will be leased. Mr. Scott expects to move into the new building in the latter part of September.

Tom White and Ken Pollon are partners in the St. Albert Sportshop which will open its doors on Perron street August 15. The shop will carry a full line of brand-name skates, hockey equipment, fishing gear, tennis and badminton equipment, etc. Inventory will be in excess of $20,000. Mr. White said the shop will be staffed by well qualified sales personnel to cater to the needs of St. Albert and district sportsmen. Mr. Pollon will manage the St. Albert Sportshop.

Reception for Dr. Byrne

A reception to introduce the new president of Athabasca University, Dr. Timothy C. Byrne, to a broad cross section of the interested public, was hosted by the Governing Authority Monday evening at the Eldorado room of the MacDonald Hotel. Some 600 invitations were issued, including representatives of the universities at Lethbridge, Calgary, and Edmonton, high school principals, students school boards personnel and people involved in many aspects of public affairs. Lieutenant-Governor J. W. Grant MacEwan was a special guest.

The atmosphere was relaxed and informal, allowing ample opportunity for those present to get better acquainted with Dr. Byrne, members of the authority and the other guests. Light refreshments were served.

Development proposals crowd Committee agenda

Discussions with representatives of five development firms took up the major portion of the June 14 meeting of the public works and finance committee, as each firm appeared in turn for their appointments. In addition the committee reviewed the Sewerage Treatment Study, prepared by Stanley Engineering Ltd. with Mr. F. Dusel and Mr. M. Pich of the engineering firm in attendance. Councillor White moved a recommendation to council for further study of three of the eight suggested alternatives. The motion carried unanimously.

Mr. S. Lew of Embassy Developments met with finance and public works committee June 14 on his firm's proposal for a 115-unit condominium development in an area to the west of Albert Lacombe school between the railway tracks and road outline. Assessment estimates compiled with town policy and committee voted unanimously to enter into a development agreement. Present were councillors White, Luky, de Bruijn and Kam-bourff. Councillor Russell joined the meeting later. At regular council meeting Monday night, council approved committee's recommendation.

Committee also met with Mr. S. Shapiro and Mr. T. Hutton of St. Albert Hotel Ltd. on their proposal for a hotel development in the Ball Estate. Written recommendations by planner J. Woodroffe regarding the motor hotel were considered: six on the development proposal and three on the proposed subdivision, having to do mainly with landscaping, parking the traffic access provisions.

The following resolution by Councillor de Bruijn carried unanimously at committee and was approved by council Monday: third reading of the rezoning bylaw be proceeded with, contin-gent upon the receipt of a letter from the developer

Home Parade opens Saturday

The stage is set for the opening Saturday June 26 of Edmonton's annual parade of show homes.

This year's home parade located in the scenic Lacombe Park subdivision of St. Albert, will get underway officially at 3 p.m., when St. Albert town officials cut the ribbon and open the "Honeymoon village."

The display will remain open from 1 p.m. to 10 p.m. daily, including Sundays, until July 17.

Featured this year are 14 three and four bedroom homes ranging in style from Spanish bungalows to contemporary three level dwellings. In all cases, the builder-members of the sponsoring Edmonton Housing Association have aimed their appeal at the "young-married" segment of the market. Down payments are near the $2,000 mark, with total costs in the $20,000 to $25,000 range. Monthly payments are in the neighborhood of $200.

Each of the show homes, indicating his agreement that, should development not take place prior to July 1, 1972, that portion being rezoned under the bylaw would revert to its existing zoning.

Mr. E. G. Koester met with committee on his proposed subdivision of River Lot 27, for a 28-suite apartment at Mission and Perron.

erected on both sides of a paved, two-block boulevard, has been furnished with draperies, suites and appliances in keeping with the decor of the house itself. Sodding and landscaping is being completed.

Anxious to obtain public reaction to the homes, the builders have arranged contests involving the registering of opinions on style, practically, craftsmanship and other features. Contest prizes include a $1,500 down payment on any of the home parade homes, with an optional award of $1,000 cash; and an Hawaiian holiday for two.

Ample free parking has been made available, and concession stands will offer food and refreshments. Toilet facilities, manned by St. Albert teen-agers, will permit young parents to inspect the homes "on their own."

Each builder is providing a staff of home counselors to answer questions.

The home parade is located north of Sturgeon General Hospital.

the Gazette REFLECTS

The Kinsmen Rodeo annually attracts more visitors here than any other event and has a tremendous promotional value in "putting St. Albert on the map."

With 11,000 paid rodeo ground admissions, plus the crowds attracted to two dances held each night and other entertainment features, there were probably 15,000 or more people having a good time here last weekend.

The entire show is organized by a handful of 30-odd young men of the St. Albert Kinsmen Club, who assume full responsibility for the big event, including the possibility, always present, of a rain-out.

The Kinsmen would be the first to say that they receive co-operation from many sources in the community, which does not detract from warmly deserved congratulations due these men who worked strenuously to stage the rodeo, which nets only a small monetary profit.

WELL DONE KINSMEN!

Record number of students writing exams

An estimated 21,500 Grade 12 students will write departmental examinations June 23 to 30 compared with 20,373 students in June of 1970, says Dr. J. E. Reid, director of operational research for the department of education.

The totals include students from semester as well as 10 month programs.

Exam papers were mailed June 4 to school jurisdiction custodians. The mailing was earlier this year so that schools can check on their supplies and can order more in case of shortages, Dr. Reid added.

Dr. Reid stresses that students who require transcripts of their marks to be forwarded to post-secondary institutions must make the necessary request before June 30.

Application forms can be obtained from the examinations branch offices in the Devonian Building, 11160 - Jasper Avenue, Edmonton. Processing of exam papers will begin June 23 to ensure that exams results are returned to students by mid July and so that transcripts of a student's high school record can be issued by the end of July, Dr. Reid says.

Dr. Reid adds that the number of Grade 12 students writing departmental exams in January has risen dramatically but most students are still completing their programs or obtaining matriculation in June.

He says statistics compared by the operational research branch show there were 35,397 exam papers written in January, 1971, compared with only 6,365 in January, 1967, illustrating the rapid growth of the semester system in Alberta. In comparison, there were only 51,630 papers written in June, 1970, a decrease of 11,586 from the 63,210 papers written in June, 1967. However, there were approximately 7,000 matriculants in June of 1970 compared with only 870 in January of 1971.

Tax escape

Sometimes you get fed up just being an employee right? Well, David Matieson, a member of a Toronto law firm, says before you get swept away with the prospects of all those enticing tax advantages apparently just waiting to be enjoyed if only you were to form your own corporation and, through it, sell your services a word of advice: take care. If you don't, the tax department will. There are more problems involved than you may suspect.

It is our individual performances, no matter how humble our place in life may be, that will in the long run determine how well ordered the world may become.

Letters to the Editor

Youth want support

The Editor:

Last June 11 the junior high school student's union held a sock hop in the Morinville Legion Hall. During the course of the evening a disturbance occurred outside the dance hall which caused one parent to come rushing over to take his daughter home. He spoke very nastily, to the student organizers, threatening to apply pressure to prevent these young people from holding such activities in the future.

To him and to you, who prefer criticizing instead of getting out there and doing something with them, let these points be clear in your mind:

- 1) It was not Vanier students who caused trouble.
- 2) The students had to contact approximately 30 parents before receiving the gracious help of four supervisors -- all ladies.

3) The purpose of these dances are two fold -- amusement for the students, -- raising money for recreational equipment.

They have been very successful on both counts. We all agree that the major causes of problems among young people today are -- lack of things to do -- and -- lack of interest in what does go on. There is little enough for young people to do in this town. When they organize something, don't knock them -- help them. Help prevent trouble from occurring, keep a good thing going. Get to know your young people -- work with them -- you'll enjoy it.

Women defended

The Editor:

At a time when more women should be encouraged to play a more responsible role in our community, your town council took a regressive action on Monday night by rejecting by a vote of four to three the applications of two very capable women to our police commission simply because they were women. One councillor or became quite incensed at the idea that women would even consider themselves qualified to serve on such a public body.

I believe that we have many qualified women who should be serving in public life and I also believe that their voices, abilities and talents are needed in the decision making progress of our community. I hope other women will not be discouraged by the "cave man" attitudes of some of my fellow councillors and will not only continue to seek public office, but demand that women be given an equal opportunity to fill important public positions. I am prepared to take this particular matter to the Alberta Human Rights Authority and I seek the support and advice of the women in St. Albert. Just call me at 599-8274 and let me know what you think.

The two women who applied for the position in our police commission are Mrs. Sylvia Ann Walsh, an elected member of School District #3 and Mrs. Joan Gaunce, a lecturer at the University of Alberta. If these two women aren't qualified to act for you -- then who is?

Robert Russell,

Protests river valley encroachment

The Editor:

By now everyone in this community must be aware of the vigorous expansion of our town due to the government's decision to locate the new Athabasca University close to St. Albert. This is also the time when we have to look at the recreational needs of the future.

Any mistake at this time may be irreversible a few years from now. Of the seven days in a week we may be able to take two for a drive in the country - if we are lucky and the weekend happens to be sunny. No doubt, then, many of your readers do like a stroll in the evening or would like to if there were some place worthwhile to go to. Fortunately nature has endowed us with a beautiful river valley and it is about to be spoiled forever if we allow bylaw #17/71 to be passed. It calls for rezoning of lot 9, block C, plan 5975 KS from Residential Comprehensive to Residential Multiple Family.

Once the rezoning has taken place council will have very little control over its development. This then will happen. We will see apartment buildings just across Lions Park and no more than a stone's throw away from the river's north bank. A stand of poplars next to the trestle bridge will disappear. This becomes the site of one of the apartments. Behind all this a two storey parking structure will be erected. And once this has been built there will be no stopping the developers from building apartments on the entire river banks down to Perron Street, where does that leave St. Albert as far as natural parkland is concerned? It is easy to see that it will be forever impossible to buy this land back once it is built up with multi-family housing.

Edmonton has preserved its river valley as a recreational area. Unfortunately and unlike Edmonton our river valley is privately owned. But by refusing to rezone those parts of it to medium or high density housing that are suitable for parkland we can keep land prices down so that one day we may be able to purchase this land at reasonable cost.

The land to be rezoned now is large and comes very close to the riverbank. It is the most desirable parksite that St. Albert has. Some grading, planting of trees, a few benches and a footbridge connecting it with the Lions Park would make this park the most scenic and restful place in town. The river valley should belong to all of the people. Apartments should and will be built elsewhere, preferably in areas that are not built up yet.

To the residents of this community I would like to address this appeal. Strong public objections are required to kill this bill. Time is running out fast. A public hearing is set for July 5. Written objections must be received in town hall by June 30. And remember that silence is always interpreted as agreement or indifference.

G. Jansing.

Delegates question Alberta minister on Bill 50

Alberta's Minister of Health and Social Development, the Hon. Ray Speaker, was questioned on the implications of Section 10 of the government bill establishing the new department of health and social development by delegates to the Alberta Conference of the United Church in Camrose, Alberta. The concern of members was that the wording of the section allowed the government to compel health practitioners in the province to respond to any request for information -- presumably about patients.

The section in question states in part that every practitioner "...who in the practice of his profession or occupation is registered or licensed under an act administered by the minister shall collect, tabulate and forward information in accordance with any request made to him by the minister or a deputy minister of the department." The section also provides penalties for failure to comply with the terms of the act. The concern of delegates was that they feared that this section left the door open for the government to collect and disclose information about individuals that would be an invasion of privacy of the individual, and a compromise of the professional integrity of the practitioner. (I.C.) The conference had earlier adopted a resolution directing members and congregations to "research, study and take appropriate action on this legislation."

Mr. Speaker's response was that it was never the intention of the government to use this section of the act to gain otherwise confidential information on individuals. He said that the government and his department were in complete accord with the church's position that the dignity and privacy of the individual must be preserved. He indicated that Section 10 of the act enabling the new department had been lifted from the old health act, and that he was going to be reviewing the complete act and if there was a need to change it in order to guarantee individual privacy he was prepared to take such changes to the next session of the legislature.

The minister did qualify his remarks, however, by saying that where a matter was primarily concerned with public monies, it was the responsibility of the government to provide the means for full examination and disclosure. In his opinion, this was necessary in order to ensure the full accountability of government to the public on departmental expenditures.

This, he said, was not incompatible with the philosophy of maintaining individual dignity and privacy.

The Reverend Len Musto minister at St. Albert United church was among the 470 ministers and lay delegates registered for the conference.

Boom a bust?

The big boom that started in condominium development in Ontario last year is showing signs of becoming something of a bust. Condominium units simply aren't selling nearly as well as optimistic developers expected, notably in and around Toronto. With several thousand more units due to come on to the market there in the next couple of months, mortgage men are nervously closing their cheque books. When all that present inventory is cleared -- and not before -- they'll consider condominium mortgages again, they say.

PEOPLE AND WHAT THEY DO

The Parish Team

Important changes have taken place in the church in recent years. Parish priests now have a much wider scope for creativity and parishioners, and the young people are very much included in this, are beginning to feel much more strongly than ever before that the church is "their thing." There is deeper personal involvement and lay people are taking a more active part in parish council decision making.

St. Albert Roman Catholic parish encompasses one thousand-plus families. They are ministered by a five member team, the Fathers Colin Levangie, Ubald Duchesneau, Jake Joly, Gerard Tetreault and Brother Ron Poirier.

Father Colin Levangie, Alberta born and Saskatchewan raised, is the co-ordinator of the team. He is also the scrounger of the team and it is said that he "never" talks money in church. He has a relaxed, easy going manner and takes a deep interest in the people around him.

The co-pastor of the parish is Father Joly. He spends his free time growing corn and is often seen zooming around the countryside on a motor bike (whenever he can talk someone into lending him one). Known as The Red Baron, Father Jake is a ski enthusiast who will sell anything, even corn, to get on the slopes.

Father Duchesneau

spends much of his time at St. Albert High, and is one of the few Fort owners who needs a 15 passenger car. He can be seen almost daily delivering or picking up car loads of kids all over town.

Father Tetreault is the parish and team administrator. He served in the Grouard area for some 20 years before coming to St. Albert four years ago. The gruff voiced priest is now semi-retired.

Brother Ron Poirier is a student at Newman Theological College in St. Albert, and a part-time parish member with many parochial duties. He is director of Camp Lacombe, the parish camp at Lac St. Anne and co-ordinates audio-visual presentations for the parish. A parishioner describes Brother Ron as "just little guy who fills the qualities of 'Ti-Bout'."

Camp Lacombe offers excellent program

Camp Lacombe, the St. Albert RC parish, camp located five miles west of Alberta Beach at Lac St. Anne, again offers this summer an excellent program of organized camping.

The facilities include showers, modern kitchen, good home cooked meals, a large recreation room, boats, canoes and a games area. Director of the camp, Brother Ron Poirier said registrations are still being accepted and he stressed the fact that children from all denominations are welcome.

Brother Ron, assisted by a team of well qualified local teen-agers, has planned a full program for the young campers, including boating, hikes, sing-songs, camp fires, swimming, sleep-outs, treasure hunts, sports and religious services.

There is room for 76 campers and sleeping is eight to a room.

Campers are allowed to bring baseball gloves, games, cameras and books. No transistor radios, please.

Campers are required to bring a sleeping bag, or two heavy blankets, sheets and pillow if desired. In addition campers should bring personal grooming items and clothes, such as a sweater, bathing suit and runners.

Registrations should be sent to Kay Oddleifson, 28 Grosvenor Blvd. Further information from the parish office at 599-6691.

Around Sturgeon

It was the same old story at the annual father's day picnic at Jas. and Fls. Macaulay's Sunday. The city dad's ball team went down to inglorious defeat again. However Edmonton teams won both the mens and ladies tug-of-war matches, and several of them did rather well at the horse shoe pits. A highly entertaining event was the foot race for children two years and under, which saw toddler Kapinsky make a beautiful bee line for the finish line and first place. The place was alive with children, parents and grandparents and the barbecue grill and pop stand were going full tilt all day, as was the Macaulay's outdoor bath tub.

tory. Responsibilities in the community are shared at an equal level, built on a christian foundation.

As Catholic priests they are dedicated to live by the Spirit of the Gospel. They are concerned and interested with the new trends in psychology, sociology and anthropology. And as one team member explained: "To be a leader of a Christian community one must study in depth the Word of God." Each of the priests in turn attends seminars, live-ins, theology courses etc.

The parish team is progressive in their thinking. They welcome the new church laws which have come into effect in recent years and which re-emphasize the whole area of responsibility.

Where not too many years ago there was a certain aura of aloofness, and perhaps loneliness, around the priest, lay people are now becoming more involved in the parish and see the parish council more as a "family" type structure with the priest playing a very important part but functioning on an equal level with his flock.

There is a pronounced trend towards ecumenical services. While a number of such services have been held at St. Albert Roman Catholic church in the past, just recently Father Levangie co-officiated at a service at St. Albert United church. This marked the first time a priest had taken part in a service held at a non-catholic church in St. Albert.

Father Levangie said he would hope that in years to come the church could become more actively involved in areas of poverty, discrimination and unwarranted wars.

The priests all agree that the strength of the church lies in the involvement and commitment of its members.

As team leader Father Levangie is involved with the parish at large. Through the team concept he hopes to promote a common purpose in the ministry by giving each person an opportunity to be instrumental in all decision making and allowing all to be creative in line with personal interest and talent. He and Father Jake continually encourage members to grow in their awareness that parish life is their thing. They attend many meetings each week, assist in an advisory capacity with the various parish organizations, are involved with religious education and are available for counselling, marriage preparation courses and visitations.

Father Duchesneau is very active in youth work. A gentle man with a ready smile and a lot of faith in today's young people, his young charges regard him as a "pretty good head who knows where it's at." He teaches religion at St. Albert High and has done an outstanding job with the young people in such projects as the Pitch and Spice Singers, the Movers, who are the parish youth group active in the Teen Centre, and the HCV.

The Holiday Community Volunteers are a group of 15 - 17 year olds who, at their own expense travel to out of town commitments in the summer months. This year they will be working on reservations in Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

St. Albert parish team members belong to a world wide Religious Congregation, the Oblates of Mary Immaculate (OMI). They are especially known in Canada for their work in the far north and as pioneer missionaries amongst the Indians. Father Albert Lacombe and Bishop Vital Grandin were Oblates of Mary Immaculate.

Local woman attends Kentucky conference

Mrs. Harold V. Lutz, of 77 Sunset Blvd. is at Louisville, Kentucky this week attending the 14th Biennial International convention of the Lutheran Women's Missionary League.

Mrs. Lutz is the central Alberta zone Christian Growth Chairman. The LWML, an auxiliary organization of the Lutheran church-Missouri Synod, has 5,852 local societies with over 200,000 members in the United States and Canada.

The league raises over half a million dollars every year for special grants in addition to local service projects undertaken. International projects just completed include scholarship funds for India, Brazil and the Philippines, a rehabilitation program in war-torn Nigeria, grants for an American Indian ministry, Lutheran Braille Workers, Inc., an Argentine Lutheran Prep school and a Spanish religious TV series.

The central Alberta zone has 23 societies with approximately 400 members. Local projects include grants for ministerial students at Concordia College, Edmonton, Zion Park Manor, a home for the aged located in Cloverdale, B.C., grant towards cost of operating the Lutheran Association of Missionary Pilots (LAMP) - an organization involved in work in the remote areas of Alberta and a grant for facilities and equipment at the Lutheran Youth Camp at Lake Isle, Alberta.

United Church asks for pre-marital counselling

The Reverend Leonard Musto was among the 470 delegates who attended the Alberta Conference of the United Church, held in Camrose recently.

The conference has decided that pre-marital counselling should be a condition for obtaining a marriage licence. A request that such a condition be spelled out in an altered marriage act is made in a four-part resolution approved at the meeting.

The resolution asks that the health minister clarify the specific rights, privileges and responsibilities of clergyman and marriage commissioners.

It asks that establishment of family counselling services on an inter-provincial basis be the major priority assigned to the provinces preventive social service bureau. Such services should include both pre-marital and marital counselling.

The motion says it has been proven that pregnancy alone is not a valid reason for marriage and no person under the age of 16 should be married unless parental permission is given or a court order issued. It recommends no changes be made in the marriage act which would make it easier to obtain a marriage licence.

Cross Age program

"The enthusiasm of the children in their acceptance of our Cross Age program exceeded my wildest dreams and we are very, very pleased with the results."

Mrs. E. M. Martin, assistant superintendent, St. Albert protestant school district, was reporting on the student tutorial program in which students from grades 2 and 6 have been participating in recent months.

The program earlier this year received a grant from the Alberta department of education, innovative projects fund.

Mrs. Martin explained that under the program students attending grade six in the district's schools, have been paired off as "teaching buddies" with grade two children.

A large number of the younger children have shown a marked improvement in their reading skills as a direct result of this program. And the older students very clearly got the message of what teachers sometimes have to put up with. "Now they know what teachers go through, having to look at messy work," Mrs. Martin said.

"In teaching these younger students, many of our grade six boys and girls for the first time saw purpose in what they were doing," Mrs. Martin said, adding that this is a "very meaningful and important thing" in education.

Mrs. Martin said her suggestion earlier this month to the participating grade six students that they discontinue the project for this term met with great reluctance. "They just did not want to give it up and are determined to carry on till the last day of school."

As part of the program grade six students wrote a number of booklets, illustrated by Paul Kane students, which were subsequently printed at the Vocational Centre.

The Cross Age program is expected to start up again in the fall.

RECREATION Hi-Lites

SWIMMING:

The swimming pool schedule for the holiday months appears elsewhere in this issue. As lessons do not start till July 5 and the schools will be no longer using the pool, additional public swimming sessions have been added to the schedule for next week. See advertisement and note the special activity on July 1. As usual the schedule is subject to adjustment and any changes will be posted at the pool and announced in the Gazette.

The first change occurs on Saturday, July 3 when the public swimming session from 10 a.m. - 5 p.m. will be restricted to the hours from 1-6 p.m. because of the Red Cross and RLSS instructors refresher course being held that day. This will provide an opportunity for instructors to update their qualifications and is open to all qualified instructors. Enquiries can be made at the pool.

Apologies are offered to those who stood in line for so long to register for instructional classes and then were disappointed. Additional classes are being added and the pool staff is making valiant efforts to accommodate as many on the waiting lists as possible. The dates for registration for classes in August will be announced next week.

It's amazing how many people think they can't swim a mile and then find they can; what a boost to the ego! The Mile Swim Award is sponsored by the Alberta Safety Council and anyone interested - or curious - about their stamina and powers of endurance can put them to the test at 9 p.m. on the first and third Sundays of each month.

Accommodation is limited so please register at the pool. All it will cost is the usual admission and if the mile is finished within a certain time, a crest will be available at a small charge. And adults, please don't remain in hiding. There is no age limit but so far only the youngsters appear to have any confidence in their own swimming ability.

SWIM CLUB:
An officials' clinic took place on Tuesday, June 22 in Robert Rundle school.

As well as being useful experience, it was to give all competitive swimming supporters - mainly parents a chance to prepare to officiate at the first summer club swim meet of the season which will take place in St. Albert on July 1. This meet promises to be a big one with teams coming from the region as well as foreign parts, such as Calgary.

Our own team has been going through some rigorous training under the gentle guidance of coaches, Dan MacGregor and Norrgrove Penney. This training has included early morning pool sessions (followed on occasion by hot chocolate) and runs along the highway to the weigh scale and back. So let's get out and cheer them on July 1 and make them realize it was all worth while.

Saints win tourney at Frontier Daze

Before a capacity crowd Sunday the St. Albert Willowbrook Saints baseball team defeated Morinville 11-0 to win the annual Frontier Daze baseball tournament.

Young righthander Wayne Biggs had very little trouble keeping Morinville off the scoreboard as he pitched excellent ball. He was helped out in the first two innings as Morinville booted the ball and gave St. Albert a 6-0 lead. Richie Perrault hit a home run for the Saints. Dennis Fitzgerald was charged with the loss.

Saints earlier eliminated Alexander Braves 6-0 behind the strong pitching of Glen Winder. Alexander won the tournament last year. St. Albert entered the finals with a close 6-5 win over Fawcett Pirates who had taken out Redwater with a 7-3 win. St. Albert opened up a 6-0 lead after five and one half innings only to allow the Pirates to score five runs in their half of the inning. Fred Resler shut them out the rest of the way to hang on to the win.

Morinville eliminated Legal as Larry Perrott pitched probably the best game of the tournament allowing Legal just one hit. Perrott also drove in the winning run with a single. The Morinville squad entered the final with a 5-1 win over Vimy with Bud Plyluk picking up the win with help from Dennis Fitzgerald. Vimy had an earlier win over Bon Accord as Sam Guerin pitched a fine game.

The win for the Saints was their second in a row as last weekend they won their own tournament in St. Albert.

Gymkhana club elects officers

The Namao Gymkhana Club has been formally organized and a new slate of officers was elected June 10 under President Marshall Davis. Mr. Davis has been gymkhana committee chairman at the Fort Trail Gymkhana Club for the past six years, and is experienced in setting up a field and arranging events for gymkhana. He is also active with the Edmonton Mounted Square Dance Club.

The Davis family are involved with breeding Arabian horses, and at present have three half-arabs and two three-quarter arabs.

Serving on the executive are Marilyn Stanton, secretary; Doreen Pearce, treasurer; Margaret Davis, recording and secretary, assisted by Shirley Nalback and Mary Capstick; Jack Pearce field crew chairman, and Bud Horricks, timing chairman, both have power to appoint members to their committees. Jack Capstick was elected master of ceremonies.

The executive has plans to visit other clubs, and to welcome visiting gymkhana clubs to Namao, as a means of giving the local riders needed experience in participation.

Margaret Davis commented that raising light horses started to become popular some 10 to 12 years ago, but interest has really increased over the last three years, and more and more young riders are turning to this form of recreation.

Namao plans Gymkhana

A full gymkhana program has been arranged at Namao field on July 11. In addition to the four major events, barrel racing, pole bending, stake racing and flag picking, three novelty events are being arranged under the chairmanship of Marshall Davis.

The events are on a time basis and the rider with the best record by the stop watch will be the winner of the racing events.

Because of the safety factor the Gymkhana Club has made western boots a requirement for all entrants in the gymkhana events. Riders are also advised that an off-course on any event is an automatic disqualification.

Rundle school holds Appreciation Tea

The principal and staff of Robert Rundle Elementary school greatly appreciate the volunteer help the school has been receiving from a number of parents during the past year.

To express this appreciation the school invited all those who assisted the teachers to a tea, held last Wednesday afternoon in the school library.

Frank Carnahan, principal of Rundle school, welcomed some 40 guests.

Pouring tea were Marilyn Schroder and Marjorie Davis. Members of the staff were able to visit briefly with the guests throughout the afternoon.

The mothers took on a variety of volunteer duties including assisting the school librarian, helping out at the annual track and field meet and helping supervise field trips.

Breakfast Lions kick off Community Calendar project

A fund raising project which has proved tremendously successful in other centres was launched in St. Albert Tuesday, as Chairman Jim Maguire of the Breakfast Lions Club received the initial advertising application from Mayor Ray Gibbon.

The 1972 Community Birthday Calendar will have large squares for each day

Discrimination

Sexual discrimination is supposed to be getting eradicated these days, but apparently it's bound to follow some people right to the grave. According to an announcement from Fiberglass Canada Ltd., a boat-building company in Victoriaville, Que., has started making "Fiberglass - reinforced plastic caskets" designed specifically for the burial of women. "And for clients who don't dig the first model, in white, the manufacturer is coming up with a second, more feminine version - in pale purple.

for recording birthdays and anniversaries of local families, plus meeting dates of clubs and organizations. For a donation of $2, a family can have these dates recorded and will receive a calendar at no charge.

Since it would be a near impossible task to contact all local residents, the Lions would appreciate receiving birthday and anniversary information from families and have provided a coupon blank in this issue for the purpose.

Space on three border strips will be sold for advertising to local business firms, with preference to Lions Breakfast and Super Club members. The top portion of the large calendar will feature an aerial photo of St. Albert in color.

Lion Jim Maguire stated Tuesday that he was confident the Community Calendar would be well received here, and would prove to be a popular annual project to support the service work done by the Breakfast Lions in St. Albert, including the community band, and the club's assistance in drawing the senior citizens in the life of the community, and arranging special events for them.

Minicycles are in

If your young son announces he wants a minicycle for his birthday, don't make the mistake of buying him a minibike. And if you don't already appreciate the distinction he'll probably set you straight and point out that, for pete's sake, Dad, you're a whole year behind the times. The minibike is that familiar little two-wheeled vehicle with a frame handlebars, a seat, a lawnmower-type engine and not much else. The minicycle (as the terminology is now evolving) is a miniature motorcycle, with drum or disc brakes on both wheels, gears, sometimes a clutch, and a top speed of 45 mph. In short, it's a midsize version of the sort of vehicle you're supposed to meet the nicest people on, and it has become a sudden big success in Canada this year. Kids like the minicycle because it looks and rides like the real thing. And manufacturers and distributors like the minicycle because, at $250 and up, it promises a bigger dollar-volume of business than the minibike, requires more after-sales service and virtually sells on sight.

American farmers raised 115.7 million turkeys last year. They were valued at $492.2 million.

David Kryskow weds Elaine Steffes

David and Elaine Kryskow, just after their wedding at St. John the Baptist church in Morinville.

By Rose Martel

Wedding bells rang out for David Kryskow, well known hockey star, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kryskow, and his childhood sweetheart Elaine Steffes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Steffes, all of Morinville, in a pretty afternoon double ring ceremony held in St. John the Baptist R.C. church. The Rev. Claude Prefontaine, a family friend from Fort Saskatchewan, officiated.

The church was decorated with large baskets of white delphiniums and pink daisies. Given in marriage by her father the bride chose a white gown of nylon sheer, with high neckline, long sleeves and trimmed with pink bows. A large mohair hat with white satin flower, trim complimented her gown and she carried an old fashioned bouquet of white roses, pink carnations and baby breath, tied with a long pink satin ribbon.

Her three attendants were identical in pink floral sheer gowns with large mohair hats, and white accessories each carrying baskets of white and pink carnations and baby's breath. Mrs. Brian Steffes of Edmonton was the matron of honor, Marilyn Krauskopf of Legal and Sherry Kryskow of Morinville were bridesmaids.

Attending the groom were Brian Steffes, brother of the bride, Randy Kryskow, RCAC, Chatham, Ontario, brother of the groom and Ken Pasnak of Fort Saskatchewan.

Ushers were Warren Steffes and Gary Malachuk both of Edmonton.

During the nuptial mass soloists were Laurette Kleser of Edmonton and Mauriel Krauskopf of Legal, Norman Chailfoux was organist.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Steffes chose a pink ensemble with white accessories and white carnations, on corsage. Mrs. Kryskow was in green floral sheer, beige accessories with white and yellow carnations on corsage.

A reception and banquet at the Morinville Recreation

Centre followed with 400 guests present. The master of ceremonies was Mr. Sudowick and the toast to the bride was proposed by the bride's brother Russell Steffes. Later in the evening 700 guests were entertained at a wedding dance and social. For her honeymoon trip to California and Mexico, the bride changed into a brown and white hot pants ensemble, with matching vest and boots. Mr. and Mrs. David Kryskow will return to Edmonton where they will make their temporary home. The groom has been drafted into the Chicago Black Hawks camp and reports for training in September.

Calahoo News

By Liz McLeod

Since the much needed rains came and halted seed-ling many residents took a short holiday. Among them are: John and Dina Groppe and Werner and Antonio Christen who travelled together to Vancouver to visit with Walter Christen and Alex Harter and other friends.

Pete McLeod in company with Will Baron and Judy Chapman travelled to Vancouver camping along the way. Judy will visit with her father.

Henry and Joyce Bergstrelser also took a vacation.

Pete McLeod's aunt Ruth Hodgins came for a two month holiday from Vancouver and is staying with her brothers Alf and Fred Rhone at Riri Leduc.

Alf and Ruth Rhone visited the McLeods for the weekend and Sharon brought Mother Birdie Russell out to the farm for a visit with her sister and brother.

Doug and Lillian, Judy and Will were also out and Nancy McLeod was a visitor as were Fred Labonte, Gordon Schmerrmund, Alex Vars (a former school mate) and Marcel Kerckhof.

A fun filled evening was held at the Lischewski home for Dennis Helchel who will marry on June 19. A grocery shower was held for his fiancée Linda Jacobson earlier in the month.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Van-sevenant and family were visitors at the Marcel Kerckhof home and Urbanle Verlinde was invited for dinner.

Foch and Eve Blouin and Eve's uncle were out to their cottage at Pine Sands and visited the Aelard Paquette's. Evelyn Paquette was a recent visitor also at the A. Paquette home.

Don and Alice Gregoire paid a visit to Alice's sister Lucienne Yader.

Lillian Bennett and Emelia Schmerrmund enjoyed a visit to Clara Loyer's the other night.

When Mr. and Mrs. H. Hoffmeier were enroute to their cottage at Pine Sands they stopped over to visit with Joe Freitag.

Jim and Liz Verbeek and family stayed at Liz's parents home to help out in her parents absence. Nancy McLeod stayed out for the weekend and Ed Bergstrelser is also assisting in Christens absence.

If there are construction sites near your home or summer cottage, remember a child can easily drown in a few inches of water at the bottom of a ditch, trench or tank. Red Cross urges you to teach your children to play in safe areas.

Mary Callihoo is back home in Calahoo after being away visiting friends and relatives for several months.

Alex, Myles and Daphne Kerr always enjoy the visit when Dr. and Mrs. Clarke from Morinville come. Gordon and Emelia Schmerrmund were there the same evening.

Kerr Bros. have had a few anxious days when their border collie pup strayed away from home. It has returned safely.

Get well wishes go out to these neighbors: Ida Berube who is a patient in Sturgeon General Hospital, Bertha Brube is also in Sturgeon General Hospital. Mary Quintal is in the Royal Alexandra Hospital and Norman Anderson of Windfield, B.C., former owner of Calahoo Trading Store is in a Kamloops hospital.

Many participate in RQB Walk-a-thon

A 10 mile walk-a-thon was held in RQB recently. Some 97 walkers participated in the event which was sponsored by the Riviere Qui Barre recreation society.

Among the participants was John McDonnell, chairman of Sturgeon school division who arrived at the starting point bright and early and completed the walk in time to rest his aching feet as he rode the tractor for the rest of the day.

The first walkers to complete the 10 miles were Linda, James and Lorna McGillis and David Schafers. They took just under two hours to complete the hike.

Gibbons plans Sports Day

Calahoo W.I. tours city

Ladies of the Femmes Chretiennes had a very fine float in the Frontier Daze Parade last Saturday morning.

Legal CWL News

The last meeting of the season was held June 15. Members heard reports by Mrs. Bill Stapleton and Mrs. W. Barry. The latter was presented with a gift from the group in recognition of her work as past president.

The CWL will be entering a float in the July 24 Fete au Village parade. The group will also sponsor a bingo at the Chateau Sturgeon on Thursday, June 24 at 7:30 p.m.

Attendance at the Home on the Range series is very good and the ladies who are registered for the series are finding it most interesting.

The annual CWL picnic for members and their families will be held July 11 at the Wilfred Barry residence.

By Lucienne Montpetit

The village of Legal float did it again. The float won second prize in the Morinville Frontier Daze parade and first prize in the Clyde parade last Sunday. Marcel Dube was in charge of building the float which had a Hawaiian theme.

Mrs. Rock Brisson is a patient in the hospital.

Bundle up those papers, the girl guides local will pick them up Saturday morning.

The entertainment committee for Fete au Village is inviting anyone who would like to entertain during the bandshell performances to give their names to Raymond Tremblay phone 598-2548, Mrs. Jos Nault, 598-3970 or Lucienne Montpetit at 598-3880.

JOKES

The older generation never got a break. When they were young they were told to respect their elders. Now they are told to listen to youth.

Mr. and Mrs. Sonny Rockwood are proud to announce the arrival of their daughter Madeleine born June 12, weighing 6 lbs. 7 oz.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Flohr have moved in their new home.

By Liz McLeod

Several members of the Calahoo WI travelled to Edmonton, June 16 for a tour of the city. Taking part in the outing were Madeline Brown, Elsa Lischewski, Daphne Korr, Emelia Schermund, Betty Albrecht, Anna Carby, Stephanie Shenfield and Liz McLeod. Pearl and Opal Qualat were drivers for the day.

The first stop on the program was a visit to Fort Edmonton, followed by a stop at the Longman building where the group chatted with the home economists. The ladies particularly enjoyed the modern kitchens where food was being prepared for a TV show.

The visitors were told that anyone wishing advice on building cupboards or a sewing area is welcome to call in. Marilyn Hensing treated the visitors to a carrot cake, made with rapeseed oil.

The WI delegation received a warm welcome at the Ukrainian centre. Several ladies were busy baking for a banquet and before they left the Calahoo ladies were invited to sample the Per-shke and enjoyed a cup of tea.

The visitors viewed a statue of Wasyi Stefanyk at the Ukrainian centre, and inspected several items of needlework, all very skillfully done.

Next stop was at the Edmonton Art Gallery where the visitors viewed works by the Group of Seven. A plastic house on display at the gallery drew much comment from the women. Continual blowing air kept the house inflated and the visitors tried out the plastic chairs.

The day finished off with dinner at Buffalo Bill's and a stop at a shopping mall.

A lady driver, having her car dug out of the snow bank by an obliging neighbor, remarked: "It's heartening to find that shovelry isn't dead."

Meet the new 800 Windrower

You adjust reel height hydraulically with a foot control. Twin 800 cylinders offer 27 inches of vertical adjustment. In addition, you can vary reel speed and tooth pitch, and position the reel forward or back 12 inches.

The huge, fingered pickup reel on hay platforms reaches under and lifts hard-to-get lodged and stuck crops - leaves material mowers can't get. Pickup reel also helps keep hay flowing evenly from conditioner to conditioner. Fine-cut reel (on grain platforms) delivers grain uniformly to augures for choppy windrows.

Wheel-and-lever steering plus variable-speed control offer complete command, up or down. Steering wheel gives natural, working control during cutting and grading turns. Lower speed drive, reverse, permit pilot and spin turn. Variable-speed lever provides working speeds from 2 to 8 mph. You can slow down for tough spots without slowing sickle and plugging.

Deluxe cushioned seat has contoured armrests and backrest, waterproof cover, shock-absorber suspension, and is adjustable to operator's height and weight.

Cutbar operates from 4 inches below ground level (for instance, in depressions) to fully-raised position, 27 inches above. Hydraulic cylinder control working height. Foot springs (optional) on frame platform let platform follow ground contours.

Fully enclosed sickle drive is a good example of how well the 800 is built. This is the same dependable drive as on the hydrostatic 880. The deluxe sub-plate joint runs dirt-free, in oil. It's practically indestructible. Never needs greasing.

Rodeo in St. Albert

The Sing-Out St. Albert entry was judged best float in last Saturday's Kinsmen Rodeo parade.

Nine year old Floyd Williams, of 9215 - 95 Ave. was one happy lad when he had his name drawn in Chriss' Grocery store "Win the Pony" draw. Floyd also received a saddle, courtesy of Bits and Spurs.

Parade and Bike decorating winners announced

The St. Albert Kinsmen Rodeo parade, which seems to get bigger and better every year, had approximately 70 entries, some travelling from as far as Hobema.

Parade chairman Bob Forcand announced the following entries won trophies: Class A band: Alberta All Girls Drum and Bugle Band. Class B band: Hillcrest Junior high school. Horse group: Nisku Centennial Riders. Single horse: Andy Lee. Best cart: Newcomers Welcome wagon.

Best float: St. Albert Sing Out. Most original: St. Albert Savings and Trust. The Best Overall award went to the Edmonton All Girls Drum and Bugle band. They were presented with the perpetual trophy.

There were some 30

youngsters entered in the Kinettes bike decorating contest. Judges were Marcel DeChamplain, Alma Hughes and Glen Ward.

Judged most comical was Louise Breland, who was outfitted in a clown's costume. Lori Bishop, with her bike resembling a Japanese flower garden won the prize for most original. The most western bike was Jodi McBeth's entry of a horse made to look like a bike, or was it the other way around? All winners won a $5 award and a badge.

Wins pony

Nine year old Floyd Williams, of 9215 - 95 Ave., Edmonton, has a new pet. Floyd won the pony, donated by Chriss' Grocery, at the Kinsmen Rodeo 110, Bits and Spurs donated a saddle.

Polishing off his free breakfast of pancakes and sausages, courtesy of the Grandin Shoppers Park merchants association, is young Todd Kathol of 10 Spruce crescent

Top money making cowboys at Rodeo

All-around champ at the St. Albert Kinsmen Rodeo last weekend was Tom Bows of Pelisko. He won $361 for calf roping, steer wrestling and saddle bronc riding. He also won the shot gun and cash prize, donated by the Bruin Inn.

Other winners included: Pat McHugh, Dewinton, wild cow milking; Rickie Hook, Kamloops, calf roping; Garre Myren, Edmonton, steer wrestling; Sandi McNamoe, Gainford, Ingrid Hewitt and Julie Thorenson, ladies barrel race.

Mel Hyland, Surrey, B.C. was first in saddle bronc riding; Phil Dean, Longview, won the bareback riding event; Leo Brown, of Car, Brian Claypool of Saskatoon and Dale Rose, won the bull riding event and John Dodds, Ponoka, won the average.

Teacher: "If your father sold 1,500 bushels of grain for $5 a bushel, what would he get?"

Pupil: "A new car."

Political economy - two words that should be divorced on the grounds of incompatibility.

Richer by 110 (silver) dollars

Ole Holm, of 46 Salisbury Ave., had his ticket drawn in the St. Albert firemen's raffle. Mr. Holm won 110 silver dollars. Right now his winnings are on display in the Holm residence and Mr. Holm isn't sure yet whether or not he should spend his silver windfall. "It sure looks pretty," he said, when Firechief Fred Tetrenko delivered the prize.
